

What is an uninterruptible power supply (UPS)?

Abstract: An uninterruptible power supply (UPS) can range from a 9 volt battery all the way to an extremely large and costly battery system.

Why are uninterruptible power supplies important?

Uninterruptible power supplies (UPS) are an extremely important part of the electrical infrastructure where high levels of power quality and reliability are required. Businesses today invest large sums of money in their IT infrastructure, as well as the power required to keep it functioning.

Do static uninterruptible power supplies provide complete independence from external power supply?

The aim is to develop power supply systems using static uninterruptible power supplies (UPS) based on fully controlled current inverters. Analysis of the existing power supply systems showed the imperfection of such schemes and does not provide complete independence of the facilities from external power supply.

What is the role of UPS in electrical infrastructure?

Uninterruptible power supplies (UPS) are an extremely important part of the electrical infrastructure where high levels of power quality and reliability are required. Businesses today invest large sums of money in their IT infrastructure, as well as the power required to keep it functioning.

Can uninterruptible power supplies be used as a hybrid storage system?

Uninterruptible Power Supplies with hybrid storage system Uninterruptible power supplies with batteries as storage source provides good performance during grid interruption and blackout by supplying instant backup energy. However batteries cannot provide backup for a very long period of time and have limited charge/discharge cycles.

Can batteries be used in power supply systems of autonomous special-purpose facilities?

Abstract: Ensuring continuity and reliability in the power supply systems of autonomous special-purpose facilities is an urgent task. A promising solution is the use of the latest types of batteries in the power supply systems of such facilities based on static uninterruptible power supplies.
