

Uninterruptible power supply cutover solution

What is an uninterruptible power supply?

Uninterruptible power supplies provide power to critical loads in the event of a power failure. Unlike emergency generators, UPS systems provide power immediately, but only for a short period of a few minutes - until a backup power supply comes on line or until the load completes its shutdown sequence.

Do static uninterruptible power supplies provide complete independence from external power supply?

The aim is to develop power supply systems using static uninterruptible power supplies (UPS) based on fully controlled current inverters. Analysis of the existing power supply systems showed the imperfection of such schemes and does not provide complete independence of the facilities from external power supply.
